- Not Sustained - where it is determined that there is insufficient evidence to prove the allegations;
- Unfounded - where it is determined by that an allegation is false or not factual; or
- Exonerated - where it is determined that the conduct described in the allegation occurred, but it is lawful and proper.

INCIDENT DESCRIPTION

Civilian Complaint: The complainant alleges the accused threatened and harassed her in her home. The accused is the great aunt of the complainant's daughter-in-law. There was a family dispute that involved the daughter-in-law's family members looking for the complainant's grandson and son. The accused phoned and texted the complainant asking for the baby's whereabouts and asking her to speak with complainant's son. Then later that night the accused had her two sisters show up to the complainant's home in an attempt to get ahold of the baby. The complainant believes the accused obtained and provided complainant's personal information, including her address, by utilizing police resources. The accused never showed up to the complainant's home and all interactions with the accused took place via text.
